```
          D
(1) He was born in International Falls
      G
    A long, long time ago
       A
    He moved to Tucumcari
             G            D
    When the ironwork got slow

          D
(2) He was cornbread and hard scrabble
       G
    And scratching for every dime
            A
    'til he threw it in and he hit the road
       G                 D
    To walk that endless line

                  A
(R) Now he's the last hobo
               D
    Riding the last boxcar
          A
    On the last freight train
           D
    Leaving here
     (2×)

       D
(3) He tried his hands at lots of jobs
          G
    And he did them all with pride
        A
    From shoeing mules to driving trucks
       G                 D
    He mastered what he tried

       D
(4) It must have been Ramona
           G
    She was all he cared about
            A
    When she ran away and left him
             G                D
    You could see the fire go out

       G
(I) We hardly ever see him
                                              D
    Once or twice and he would stay a day or two
        G
    He'd ask about Ramona
                                            A
    Then he'd say that he was only passing through
```

```
      D
(5) Now he knows every railroad bull
     G
    Along the right of way
      A
    And every hobo jungle
       G                  D
    From New York to Santa Fe

      D
(6) He's looked for his Ramona
         G
    On the far side of the hill
          A
    Now his sun is sinking lower
           G                D
    And he's looking for her still
```
